6. Amanruya — Bodrum hotel resort & spa

These are my best picks of hotels for anyone planning to visit Bodrum. I will explain them to you in more detail later in the article below, keep reading!

1. Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum

The first one on the list is Mandarin Oriental which is a beautiful resort that is famous for providing exclusively luxurious experiences. Overlooking the sea, this hotel is an ideal place for those who want to have a quiet and luxurious stay. It's perfect for families, adults and couples who like to get the best of the best.

Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum

The Mandarin Oriental has everything you could want. There are two gorgeous beaches, a fun kids' club, and many tasty restaurants to choose from. If you're in the mood for shopping, you can check out the hotel's stylish boutiques. And if you're looking to relax, the health spa, connected with the Mayo Clinic, will take great care of you.

One of the coolest things I like about the Mandarin Oriental is that every room has its own small swimming pool! You can swim whenever you like without sharing. Plus, the views from the rooms are amazing—you'll see the beautiful Aegean Sea right from your window.

The Mandarin Oriental is great for families, couples, and anyone who wants a fancy getaway. So if you're planning your next vacation, make sure to think about this awesome hotel!

2. Scorpis Bodrum

Scorpis Bodrum is one of the most exclusive places you can stay on Turkey's beautiful Turquoise Coast. It has 12 special bungalows, each with its own big terrace and private swimming pool. That's interesting!

Scorpions Bodrum

I don't know how many days you'll stay in Bodrum, but each morning, you get breakfast right in your room! Friendly staff bring you delicious shakshouka and other tasty foods. In the afternoon, the beach club and restaurant become very lively. The vibe is fun, with cool music playing while people relax on big daybeds.

At lunchtime, you can enjoy drinks and smoothies around wooden tables with tasty grilled meats and flatbreads. After eating, you might want to try the sauna or watch performances at The Ritual Space. On weekends, the restaurant is a hotspot where people have dinner and then dance under the stars to upbeat music.

Scorpions Bodrum is perfect for a fancy and fun vacation. But remember, it's a bit expensive, starting at around £925 per night.

3. The Bodrum EDITION

The Bodrum EDITION has since the opening in 2018 turned into a hotspot on the Turkish Riviera. It is among the 15 Edition hotels located in the different parts of the world and is affiliated with Marriott International, a large hotel chain company.

The Bodrum EDITION

The hotel comprises a total of 108 beautiful rooms and villas all of which have a balcony with sea view towards the Aegean Sea. The marble bathrooms are lovely, with a big shower and a tub filled with Le Labo goodies. Some rooms even have their own gardens and pools, and there's a large villa with four bedrooms for those who want extra space.

If you love the beach, the Bodrum EDITION is the perfect spot. It's close to other fun beach clubs and the Yalikavak Marina. The hotel staff are really friendly and helpful, and there's a great pool and beach area for families. You can even use golf carts to get around the hotel, and the gym has all the latest equipment.

4. Maxx Royal Bodrum

If you're looking for a super fancy vacation, Maxx Royal Bodrum is the place to go! When you drive up, you'll see shiny sports cars and know this is one of the coolest hotels in Bodrum. This isn't Maxx Royal's first hotel – they also have amazing places in Antalya. Their Bodrum hotel combines everything great from their other hotels into one luxurious spot.

Maxx Royal Bodrum

At Maxx Royal Bodrum, you'll find beautiful rooms with awesome views of the sea. The hotel has seven restaurants and six bars, so there's lots of delicious food and drinks. Spago by Wolfgang Puck is a favorite, known for its tasty dishes and excellent service. The hotel also has Caviar Kaspia, a restaurant that makes you feel like you've stepped into a Parisian café.

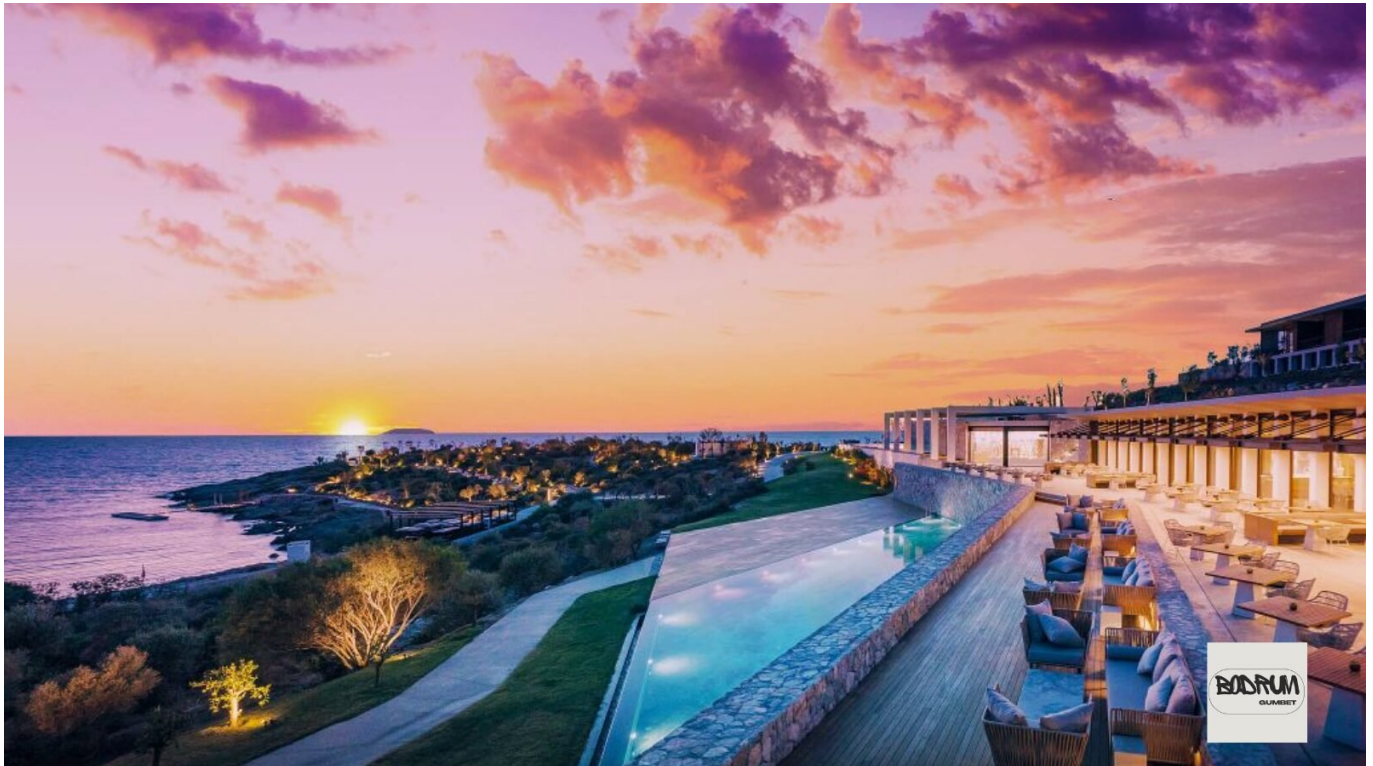

The hotel also has a huge spa called Maxx WellBeing Centre, where you can enjoy special treatments like Thai massages and Ozone therapy. You can even visit Scorpios Bodrum, a popular beach club nearby.

All in all, Maxx Royal Bodrum offers a fun and luxurious vacation experience for your family & friends.

5. Six Senses Kaplankaya

Six Senses Kaplankaya is a fantastic resort right by the beautiful Bodrum coastline in Turkey.

This place isn't just a hotel; it feels like a charming seaside town with its own unique vibe. It was one of the first luxury resorts in Bodrum, and even with many new ones opening up, it still remains special. That's why I decided to add this best bodrum hotel in the list.

Six Senses Kaplankaya

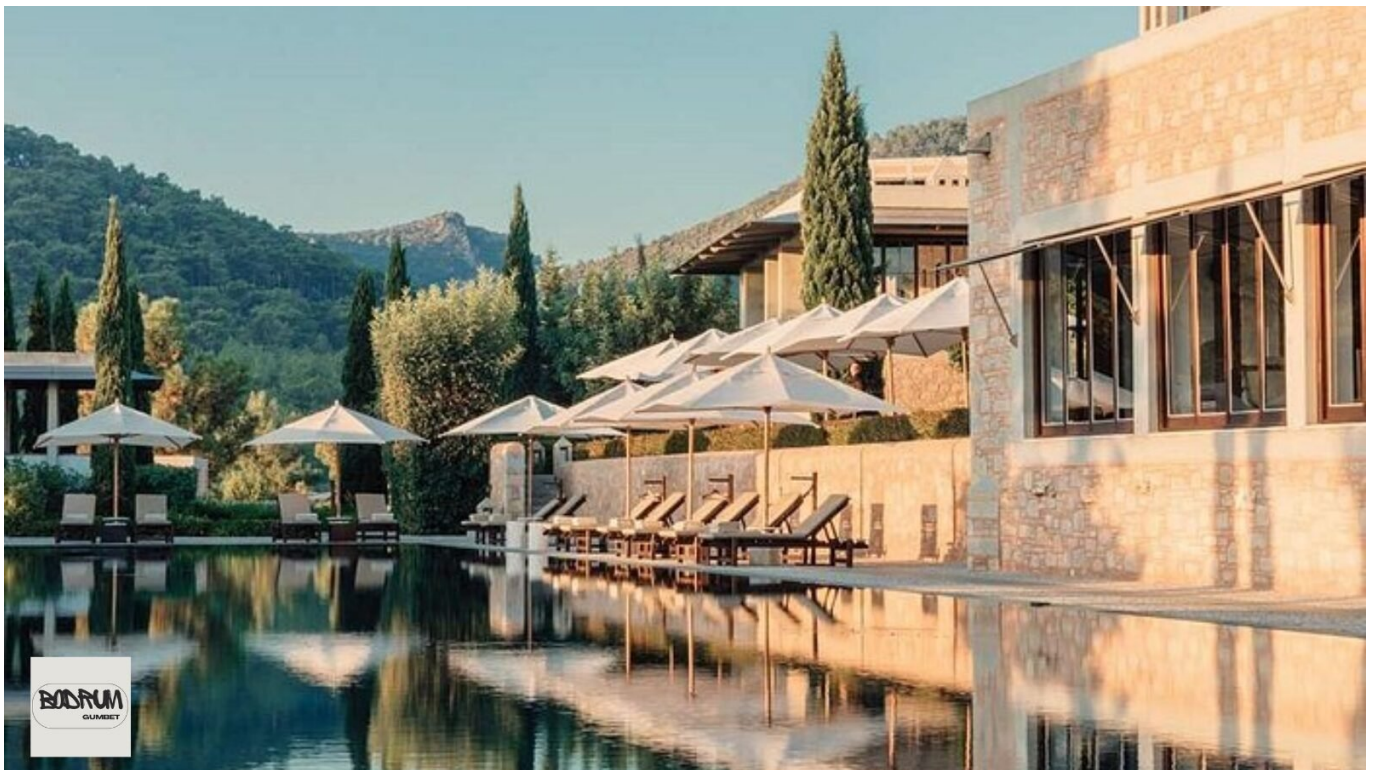

At the heart of Six Senses Kaplankaya is its amazing wellness center. The spa is huge, covering more than 10,000 square meters. Here, you can enjoy a variety of treatments. You might try a traditional Turkish bath or something more modern like Watsu, which involves floating in warm water to relax.

The resort is easy to get around. You can use golf carts to travel between the different areas. Your room or suite will be a cozy and luxurious space. There are several places to eat, including Anhinga. This beachfront restaurant is famous for its seafood and cocktails, all enjoyed under a beautiful seagrass canopy.

The resort has also developed a reputation for being environmentally conscious. It operates with the use of solar energy and has a farm that supplies vegetables used in its restaurants. I'd say it is ideal for those who prefer quiet and close nature as much as possible.

6. Amanruya

Finally, let me introduce to you hidden gem. Yes! Amanruya, is an exquisite villa situated in the mountain area of the Bodrum district in Turkey. Located less than 10 minutes of walking from the shore, this is a good hotel for tourists in search of solitude.

Amanruya

The hotel's stone pavilions are designed to blend in with the trees, making it feel like part of nature. Each room is beautifully decorated, mixing modern comfort with Turkish charm. The hotel's Anatolian restaurant is also a highlight. Chef Omer Ozkan creates amazing dishes, with his lamb and beef dumplings being a local favorite. They come with a tasty tomato sauce and a side of creamy garlic yogurt.

The spa at Amanruya is all about relaxation. You can enjoy massages and treatments that combine old healing methods with modern wellness techniques. These treatments are designed to refresh your body and mind.

Amanruya is the perfect spot for a peaceful getaway. With its natural beauty, top-quality rooms, and outstanding spa, it's no surprise that this hotel is so well-loved by travelers.

Final Verdict

All the hotels mentioned above provide an excellent experience and it is really hard to name the best one, but my choice is Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum. Featuring luxurious accommodation, amazing location and best of the services, it would undoubtedly be the ideal destination for every guests.
